The Rainbow

1929

Published by the Students of Junior College of Augusta and Academy of Richmond County
Augusta Georgia.
Vol. III.

DEDICATION
TO
ERIC WEST HARDY

A true friend and a wise counselor, in token of his unflagging interest in all school activities, especially those connected with campus beautifying and oratorical work, we sincerely dedicate this, the third volume of "The Rainbow."

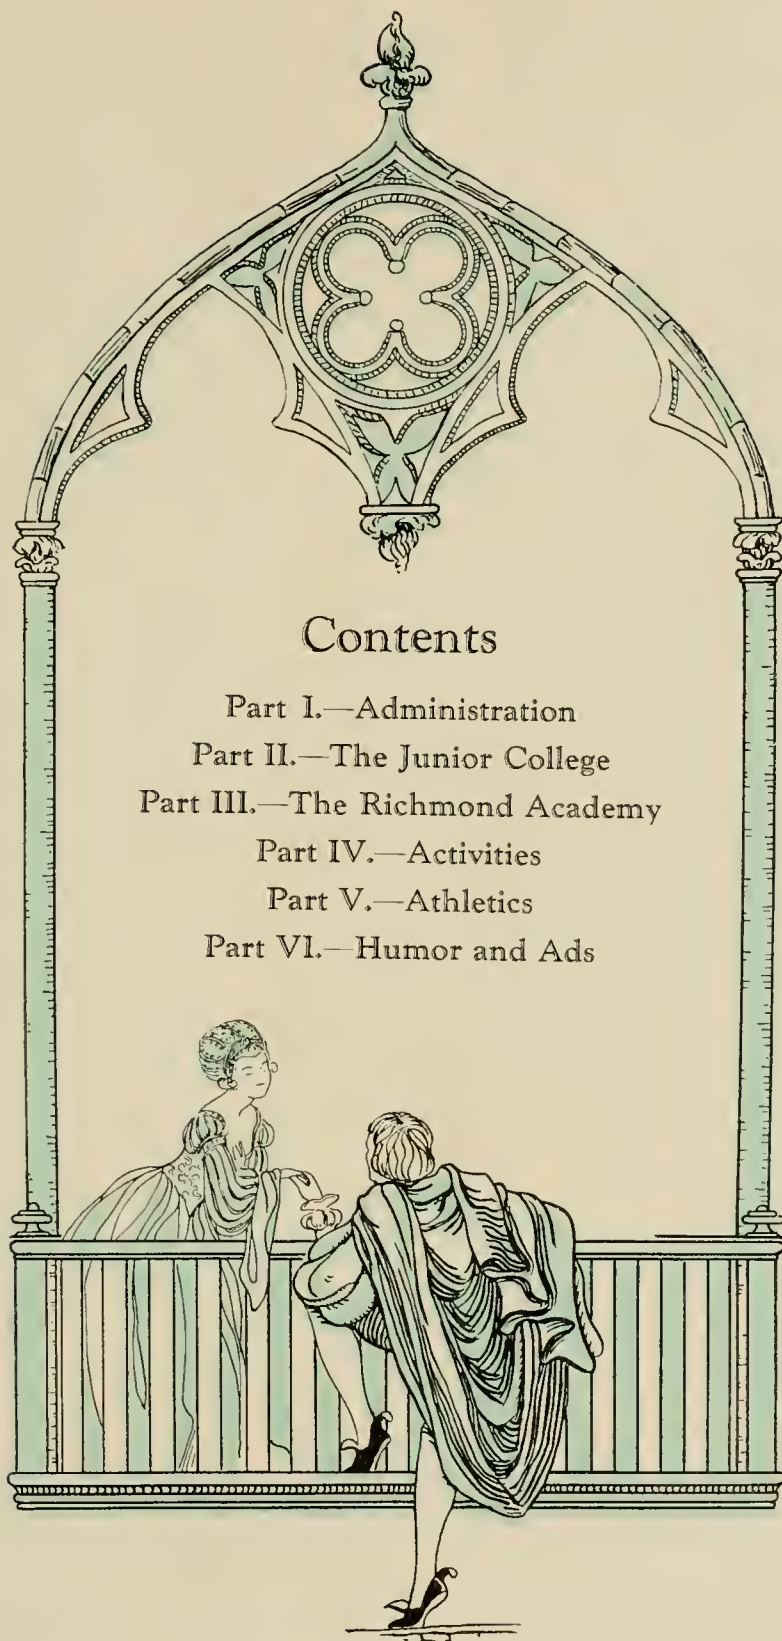

Mr. Eric West Hardy

FOREWORD

This, the third RAINBOW, joint Year Book of The Junior College of Augusta and The Academy of Richmond County, it is the hope of the Staff, constitutes a further step in the evolution of the ARC, the Annual of the Academy before Junior College days. For the materially-minded, RAINBOW may be only a pretty name for the book that holds the pictures and the writings of our comrades; for those who care for symbols, RAINBOW is a glorified ARC, the sign of what we want our book to be. For all, let us hope this RAINBOW will in worthy measure represent the things its name connotes: Beauty, Promise, Hope, Progress.

Administration

MAJOR GEO. P. BUTLER, B.E., LL.D.

As President of the old Academy and of the new Junior College, I am asked to write a brief message for all who may find it here. It should be so plain that "he may run that readeth it" and so impelling that he must run that reads it, even though he have not already started.

My message to you is a single word, understood and obeyed by runners and travelers everywhere. It is my hope that you will take it as my message to you personally and individually.

As you face life, with the road to worthy ambition stretching out before you and with the signboards pointing straight ahead, it is my high privilege to flash on the signal, "GO."

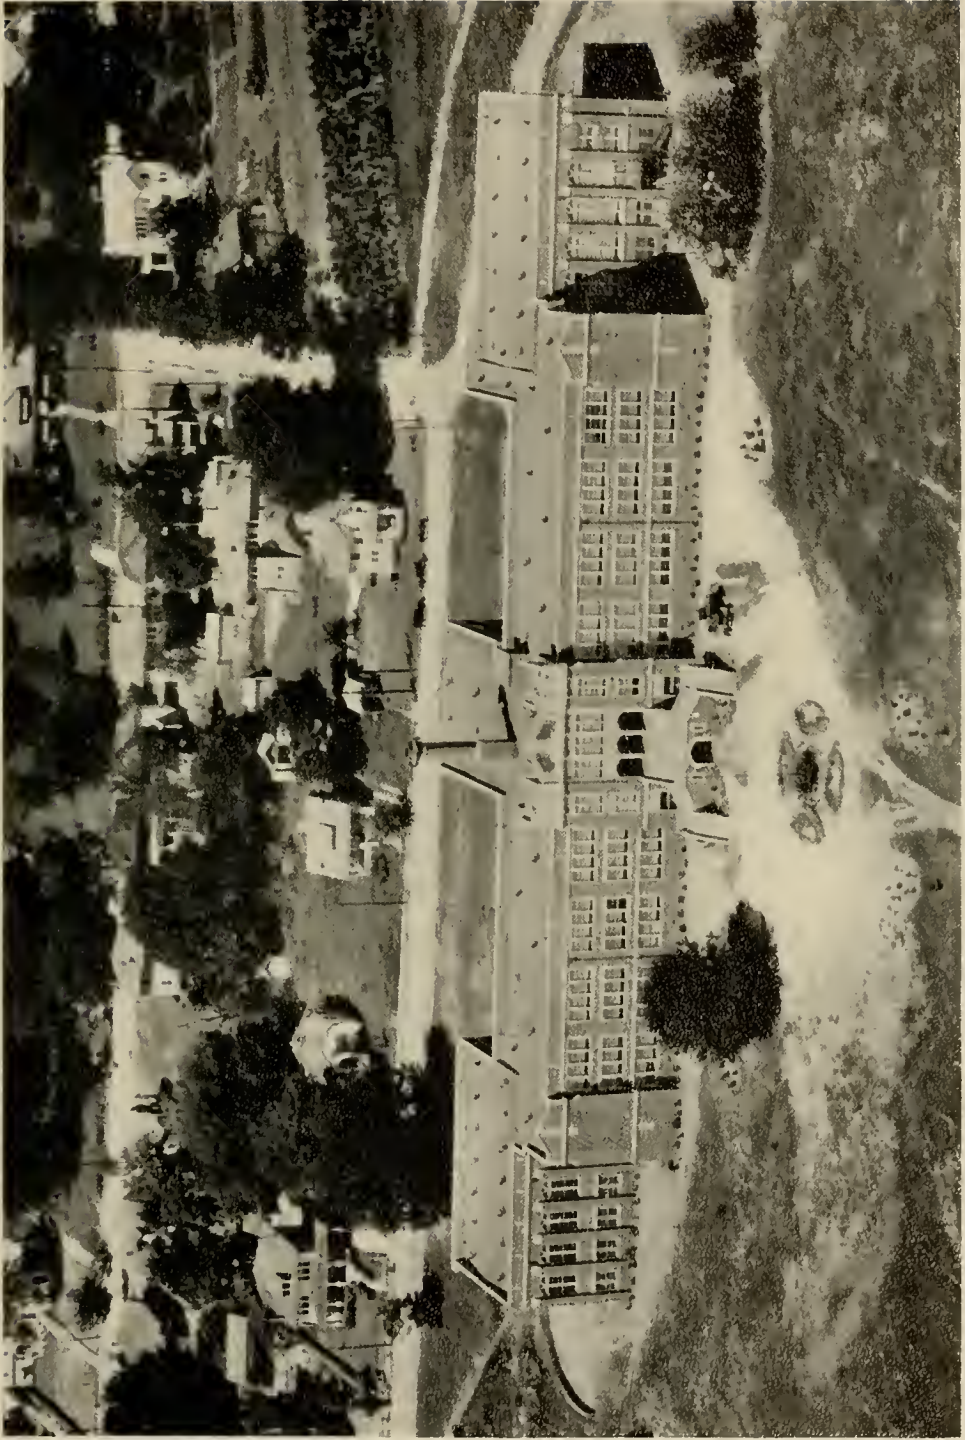

Sincerely your friend,

GEO. P. BUTLER,

President.

SOPHOMORE

STEWART AUERBACH

Stewart is one of the boys who come under the category of tall, dark and handsome. He may look quiet, but when you know him, Oh boy!

Noted: Boy's Council, 1, 2; Honor, 1.

LAVADA AMOS

Rare are the pleasures that equal having known a girl like Lavada. She is possessed with a remarkable intellect and a disposition so sunny and friendly that one is always to see the bright side of things after being in her company. Her capacity for knowledge is so great that her classmates often marvel at her brilliance.

Noted: Honor, 1.

IRENE BARCHAN

Irene is noted for her cheerful smile. She has a sparkling wit and we are sure that she will make a very attractive teacher—if those brown eyes of hers will only behave!

Noted: Sidney Lanier Literary Society, 1, 2; Honor, 1.

EDITH BARGERON

Flashing brown eyes, wavy brown hair, and a vivid personality contrive to make Edith a popular member of the Sophomore class. She is a good sport and a very bright scholar.

Noted: Honor, 1; Hi-Y-W, 1, 2.

SARA BELL

"Sally of My Dreams" suits this Sally to a "T". Her smile comes stealing when we're feeling blue. Sally is inclined to be quiet in class but enters into any fun going on when class is over.

MARY EMMA BLANCHARD

Here is one of the sweetest girls at J. C. A. To know her is to love her. We speak not only from our own experience but from that of several of the "stronger sex."

Noted: Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; Girls' Council, 2; Literary Society, 1.

FRANCIS CLARK

Francis, the efficiency expert; always ready to sell us anything from J. C. A. caps to Physics books, better known as "Slow Death." He is a scholar and a gentleman, and his initiative ability, and willingness to work insure his future success.

Noted: Military Editor Rainbow, 2; Captain.

LILA DAVIDSON

Who breaks more hearts than Samson's Delilah? Our Lila. Her good looks have caused admiration, her good nature, love, and her good work, respect. We're satisfied with our blue-eyed Lila.

Noted: Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; President, 2; Girl's Council, 1; Class Treasurer, 2; Literary Editor RAINBOW.

HAZEL DORN

"Now comes the Dorn" and with it Mr. Skinner's keen appreciation of her "trigability." Mr. Read also realizes the fact that she is a wonder.

HARRY ECKHOFF

Nothing can ruffle Harry's equilibrium, not even the combined efforts of Mr. Scruggs and Mr. Begue. It is a pleasure to be around Harry, for then you know you are in good company.

ELIZABETH FANT

"Ella" Fant belies her name. She is small and slim, and even Mr. Read acknowledges her intellectual ability. We expect some day to see her name signed to a great literary work.

ANN ELIZABETH FERGUSON

"Red" herself. She is a beacon light in the mental fog of our classrooms. Anyone with the capacity for cutting up pickled frogs in zo—and yet maintaining her feminine charm is worthy of our sincere admiration.

BEN FULGHUM

Quiet, reserved and capable. His executive ability has found him a place as an "ossifer" in almost every school organization. We present Mr. Fulghum, our class president.

Noted: Hi-Y, 1, 2; Class President, 2; Ciceronian Literary Society, 2; Editor-in-Chief Musketier, 2; Honor, 1; Lieutenant-Colonel, 2.

LEO GLEASON, JR.

Leo, the Literary Society Genius. He is courteous, unassuming, and—well just gaze into his eyes and you can see numerous possibilities—looks interesting, doesn't it?

Noted: Sidney Lanier Literary Society, 1, 2; Critic, 2.

DORIS GREINER

Doris's dramatic talent came to the front in her portrayal of Miss Curtis in the inimicable "Charm school." Doris knows all there is to know about Henry VIII and we wouldn't be surprised if she knew something about another Henry, too.

Noted: Dramatic Club, 1, 2.

CECIL GUNN

Cecil fires us with enthusiasm; dainty, calm, and sweet, she is a beloved member of our class and a favorite of the Faculty.

Noted: Honor, 1; Sidney Lanier Literary Society, 1.

ANNA HEFFERNAN

"Shorty" has walked straight into the hearts of everyone at J. C. A., not to mention a goodly number from A. R. C. Her dimpled smile and contagious good humor are mere samples of the traits that make up the tiniest but the most popular lass in school.

Noted: Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; Dramatic Club, 1, 2; Literary Society, 1; Girl's Council, 2.

PARKS HENDEE

The "letter man" and wit of our class. Park's sparkling humor even has its effect on Miss Flisch and we owe the success of the Joke Section to "Sparky."

Noted: President Student Council, 2; Hi-Y, 1, 2; Dramatic Club, 1, 2; Sports Editor RAINBOW; First Lieutenant, 2; Football, 2; Basket-ball, 1, 2; Tennis, 1, 2.

PARMIE HENDERSON

When one knows Parmie, one need not buy the College Humor. Her clever wit and droll sarcasm keep everyone highly amused. We'll wager that her pupils at John Milledge never play "hooky."

Noted: Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; High Honor, 1.

SUSIE HILL

"When sweet Susie comes stepping by" everyone else stops, looks, and remains to listen. And why not? for Susie always says something that's worthy of hearing.

Noted: High Honor, 1.

RUTH HOWARD

Another one of those red-headed vamps. We can't say enough of Ruth; she's on the Musketeer Staff and, very aptly, fills her position. Here's hoping she will always be as well-liked as she is at J. C. A.

Noted: Musketeer Staff, 2; Literary Society, 1, 2; Rifle Team, 1.

ANN JONES

What would we do without Ann? Her various talents have contributed to the student organizations and activities, and much of the class pep and spirit can be justly attributed to her. Ann is blond, pretty and versatile. Her attractive personality and charming manners help to make her a treasure to the Sophomore Class.

Noted: Editor-in-Chief RAINBOW, 2; Honor 1; Literary Society, 1, 2; President, 2; Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; Dramatic Club, 1; Girls Council, 2; Secretary, 2; Musketeer Staff, 2.

RUTH KNIGHT

A Greta Garbo type, the tall, willowy blonde with eyes that you love to gaze into and a skin you love to touch. But even though she looks luxuriously lazy, she is very athletic.

LILLIAN LANSDELL

Petite and dainty, with a charm so undeniable that even the faculty succumbs to it. When we think that tiny miss has passed Physics, we realize that she uses her brains to enhance her beauty.

ROBERT LEONARD

We do not know much of Robert except that he is witty, a nice conversationalist, and his eyelashes curl. He is quite a scientist. We think that he is a fine addition to our class.

Noted: Joke Editor, RAINBOW, 2.

JOSEPHINE MAGUIRE

"Irish," the Titian blond and, needless to mention, the first honor student of our class. Her sparkling personality makes her sought after by every one, especially the sturdy oaks of J. C. A.

Noted: Girl's Council, 1, 2; High Honor, 1; Musketeer Staff, 2.

ELIZABETH MOBLEY

The never-to-be-forgotten "Alix"—Tiny, French, and darling, who captivated all by her Parisian accents and gestures in the play so suited to her personality, "The Charm School." All "Libby" has to do is to cast one glance with her huge brown eyes and she has made a friend for life.

Noted: Dramatic Club, 1.

LLEWELLYN MORGAN

A treasure in the Botany laboratory. "Jo" is calm and dignified. She is also an aspiring young orator and we are glad to have the benefits of her many talents in our class.

Noted: Literary Society, 1, 2.

ADRIENNE MORRIS

A good scout and a friend worth having. Adrienne is an artist of no mean ability and we are proud to have her illustrations in our annuals.

Note: Girl's Council, 1, 2.

CATHERINE MOYE

The chemistry wizard—she wields a wicked test tube. Catherine is also one of the pillars of the Literary Society and a charter member.

Noted: Literary Society, 1, 2, Secretary, 2.

WALLACE NORTH

The mystery of Wallace is a pleasant problem to probe. Her versatility in changing from the sublime to the ridiculous affords us much entertainment. Her calm dignity when presiding over a meeting conflicts with her childish glee in performing the doll dance up and down the corridors.

Noted: Vice-President Class, 2; Girl's Council, 1, 2; President, 2; Hi-Y-W, 1; Dramatic Club, 1, 2; Musketecr Staff, 2;

EUGENE PEACOCK

Eugene is not as vain as his name, though he has just cause to be, after attaining the dignity of a sophomore at such a tender age. We hope we will always succeed in having as many true friends as he has had at J. C. A.

Noted: Sergeant, 2.

MARY MARGARET PRITCHARD

"Make" is like a good-natured chubby cherub. Her tinkling laugh is very contagious, but aside from that her mental capacity is astounding. Everyone is proud to be classed among her friends.

Noted: Honor, 1.

MABEL ROBINSON

The class artist. Whether it is in painting artistic "slickers" or landscapes, we award the medal to Mabel. She is also a remarkable linguist, as illustrated by her responses in French 62.

Noted: Art Editor, RAINBOW, 2; High Honor, 1.

ANNE ROTHROCK

Demure and sweet, she reminds one of the song, "An Old-fashioned Locket." If conscientious work is the foundation of success, then Anne will reach the top rung of the ladder, and we know that she will make an ideal teacher.

BIRDIE SAWILOWSKY

Birdie, the last of the Sawilowsky dynasty, and worthy to uphold the already famous name. Birdie takes to French like a duck to water, as is readily discerned by her numerous A's in that subject. Her unflinching good humor and her industrious attitude toward lessons and student activities make her a person sought after by both sexes.

Noted: Sidney Lanier Literary Society, 1; Honor, 1.

GILBERT SCHUMACHER

The class orator and poet, Gilbert keeps us spell-bound by his truly poetic genius. His handsome appearance, his grace in dancing, and his magnetic personality make him one of the most popular members of our class.

Noted: Literary Society, 1; Honor, 1; Musketeeer Staff, 2; Class Poet, 2.

ELLIOTT SEROTTA

To pass College Algebra with ease shows a mentality worthy of note. Even Mr. Hardy calls him a "good old scout" and we know that Elliott possesses many fine qualities that will make him a success in later years.

Noted: Honor, 1.

HOMER SHARP

Homer's classic profile makes him easy to look upon and his personality makes him an extremely interesting person to be with. Homer's genius at management makes him sought after as an executive on many of the student organizations.

Noted: Business Manager RAINBOW, 2; Hi-Y, 2; Honor, 1; Literary Society, 1, 2; Chemistry Club, President, 2; Class Secretary, 2; Literary Society, 1, 2.

DOROTHY SPETH

"Dot" is a recruit from University of Georgia, and a worthy acquisition to our class. Her ease in assimilating Organic Chemistry is remarkable, and her long blonde tresses have won the admiration of the entire student body.

ROESEL STANFORD

In English 62, if Roesel does not utter her daily "Why" is that and if so, why not, the whole class sinks again into deep slumber. You can see from this how highly we value her for her accomplishments.

SOLOMON TANENBAUM

Sol is known by the feminine element as the best waltzer in school and by his own sex as a military expert and scholar. The Faculty also have a very good opinion of him.

Noted: Captain, 2.

MARGARET YOUNG

Last but not least—the prettiest young lady in our class. Her dimpled smile and friendly disposition are enough to make anyone sit up and take notice. This charming “Fraulein” is especially attractive to “Herrs.”

Noted: Hi-Y-W, 1, 2; Sidney Lanier Literary Society, 1; Dramatic Club, 1.

RUTH CLEMONS

A disposition that's easy-going, and a nature that instinctively makes her many friends. She not only masters her lessons but her “Lizzie.”

Noted: Honor, 1.

HARRY DAWSON

“Speedy” gets to school in time for Physics Class, anyway, and convinces Mr. Talley without argument. Here's to “Speedy” as an engineer!

To My Class

*Out of the dark
With its mist and cold
The youth of to-day march on.
As they trudge along
The night turns day—
Through darkness they enter the dawn.*

*Out of the night
They follow a beam
That leads to an endless road.
Some stop by the way,
To work, or to play,
While others break down from the load.*

*Out of this mist
With its guiding star,
There are few who remain to the end
To share the glories
Of diligent work—
The joys one can not spend.*

*There are members of us
Who will stop by the road
To walk in the paths by its side,
And drink in their brooks
That knowledge of life
Which learning could never confide.*

*Still others, I hope,
Will follow that light
That brightens as darkness comes on.
They will follow that beam
Where ever it goes,
Until—
Through darkness they enter the dawn.*

History of the Class of 1929

At last, the papers were corrected. With a sigh of relief and a barely stifled yawn, he stretched, made himself comfortable, and fell into a dreamy musing. Things really were not half so bad as they seemed, and it was rather pleasant to watch the growth and development of people. He could not help smiling, this teacher who had seen so many students come and go, as he remembered them during the first trying days of Junior College. The class of 1929, like others that had come before it, had been greatly awed by the prospect of the coming two years. But, like its predecessors, also, it had come through that first year of lectures, lab work, chapel exercises, tests, and what-nots, quite successfully, really a great deal more so than anyone would have at first predicted. So, you couldn't always judge by first appearances.

And then—but his pipe had gone out, and—of course, it must be filled again—and then, Oh! Yes, he was thinking how pleased he had been when the Freshman class with some few valuable additions and a few regretted losses had returned as Sophomores. But, of course, it had been done before, and he naturally expected great things of the class he liked so well. Thinking of the different happenings of the year now almost at an end, he remembered the many football games in which they had taken part either on the field or in the cheering section. He remembered the lovely sentiment of the tree planting, the hilarious excitement of basket-ball games, and tense eagerness during track meets and the hard work and real enjoyment in publishing the school paper, The Musketeer. Each of these things came, one by one, to his mind. And now to think that he had corrected papers for the last time for that class whose joys and sorrows, and work and fun he had followed day by day for almost two years. In a few weeks they would be scattered—and he would rather not think of it.

By this time it had grown late, so, slowly getting up, he shook the ashes from his pipe and left the room, hoping that the class of '29 would be as happy and prosperous as he wished it to be.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1929

STATE OF GEORGIA

COUNTY OF RICHMOND

We, the class of '29, realizing with unutterable joy and anticipated pleasure that the time has apparently arrived for us to bid good bye to those who have contributed so much to our agony, mental suffering, and physical pain during the two long (too long) years of our continual Hades on earth, and, in consequence of the deplorable condition of our minds and bodies, being only somewhat intelligent, and to a slight degree aware of what we are about to perform, do hereby declare, publish, ordain, and establish this the Last Will and Testament of us, the said class of 1929, to wit:

Item 1. We hereby bequeath to our beloved and honored President, Dr. George Phineas Butler, one burglar-proof vault in which to store the wonderful ideas that he so willingly employed, as doubtful as it may seem, for our benefit.

Item 2. To Dean J. L. Skinner we leave our old joke book with which to entertain and amuse our successors as he tried in vain to amuse us.

Item 3. To Miss Julia Flisch we leave free, gratis, one license to lecture to young boys and girls on rules governing love and marriage.

Item 4. To Mr. J. M. Ellis, that lovable, kind, and helpful Apollo, we bequeath one book on pleasing personalities to benefit his students when desiring information.

Item 5. To Mr. C. M. Sutton we willingly bequeath one case of "giggle-soup" with which to "make whoopee."

Item 6. To Mr. H. O. Read we leave the wish that he shall continue to reign supreme as the Beau Brummel of J. C. A.

Item 7. To Mr. Eric W. Hardy we bequeath one volume illustrating the good qualities of Tammany and Democracy; also, one eraser to be used in class so that he may spare his finger, which has done duty for so long.

Item 8. To Mr. O'Neil W. Chandler we leave Johnnie Fanch's red socks and tie for atmosphere, and one pair of very soft rubber heels.

Item 9. To Col. Goodwyn we bequeath Joe Armstrong's and William White's great enthusiasm and love for drilling.

Item 10. To Miss Brewer we leave one very sharp knife to be used in fixing her famous transparent sandwiches, and the song entitled, "You Can't Have a Sandwich Without the Bread."

Item 11. To Mr. J. L. Talley we leave a list of instructions telling how to keep "Dizzy Dowling" quiet during class, and also Gilda Gray's charming ability to demonstrate effectively simple harmonic vibrations.

Item 12. To Miss Rainsford we leave a beautifully bound set of Elinor Glyn novels. We have it from a reliable source that Miss Rainsford has cherished, for a long time, a secret desire to add these to our library.

Item 13. To Mr. Justin A. H. Begue we bequeath the ability of a ventriloquist, lending him the power of throwing his voice and hoping that the next time he throws it he aims for the waste basket.

Item 14. To Mr. Scruggs we leave a new set of Organic Chemistry formulas, so that he can, without any suspicion whatsoever from his classes, explain the meaning of some "far fetched" questions of Misses Davidson and Fiske.

Item 15. To Mr. George M. Dasher we leave our old jack-knife to carve fixtures for the dear old institutions when he is not looking for fires.

Item 16. To Miss Boggs we bequeath one Academy Freshman on which she can practice her theories of child psychology.

Item 17. We hereby bequeath to Mr. Markert our entire class that not only comes to school every day but every day "on Time."

Item 18. To Coach Charles Guy Cordle we leave "Shorty" Boyd's mighty voice, so that his "Step on it" may be heard by his Academy flashes near the end of the 220 and 440-yard dashes.

Item 19. To Mr. Mitchell we leave one library table to be placed in his room so that his beautiful coed students may park their gum.

Item 20. To Mr. John Evans Eubanks we bequeath one loose-leaf note-book to contain his collection of inspiring war anecdotes, to be sold at the book store for ten cents a copy, as a benefit to the "Unknown Soldier."

Item 21. To Mr. McLeod we leave one carton of Murad Cigarettes, so that he can maintain his nonchalance before the admiring eyes of the feminine portion of J. C. A.

Item 22. To the Faculty as a whole we leave the hope that they will take no offense at what we have said, for they have our appreciation and sincere affection.

We appoint as our executors "Old Black Joe"; "One-eye Harry."

Witnesses:

AUNT HET, HAMLET, HAMBONE
and the LOST BATTALION.

To the Students of Tubman High School or the Academy answering the following questions we leave one free scholarship to the Walker Baptist Institute.

1. Why does B. C. Wall stop at the corner of Russell and McDowell Streets?
2. Does Mr. Ellis enjoy himself at the dances?
3. Where does Miss Rainsford get her daily flowers?
4. Is soft water necessary to soft-boil an egg and hard water necessary to hard-boil an egg?
5. Who cut out the paper dolls for Ed. Elliott's car?
6. Is a nice girl one who walks in her sleep while dreaming of auto rides?
7. Is a raisin a prune whipped down to a nub?
8. Why is a certain attractive brunette taking Calculus?
9. Why does Col. Goodwyn show such a marked aversion to the co-eds?
10. Is a grass widow the wife of a vegetarian?
11. Are liquid assets the bank deposits of a bootlegger?
12. Is it true that Mr. Skinner gets the last word with his wife only when he apologizes?

These questions will be answered by Houdini and Hawkshaw at 3:00 o'clock Sunday, Feb. 31.

Class Prophecy

In answer to a letter from J. C. A. of 1929.

Augusta, Georgia;

April 1, 1945.

Dear Parks:

Thanks for your letter. You say you want to know all about the old J. C. A. gang of 1929? Well, here goes. Things have certainly happened since you left to become Spain's greatest Bull Fighter—after two years "bulling" at J. C. A.

Margaret Young is now Professor of Romance Languages at Wellesley College. We are not so sure about the Language part, but we know the romance is all right.

Eugene Peacock has made so much money raising ostriches in Florida that he has given $50,000 to the superannuated Junior College teachers.

I hear Robert Leonard is a dog doctor, and a howling success at that.

LaVada Amos is one of the foremost women lawyers in America.

Did you see Ben Fulghum's picture in the New York Times? He is now in command at West Point.

Edith Bargerion has married a French count (no account, maybe) and has a celebrated French salon which she calls a saloon.

John Fanch and Harry Eckhoff are publishing a book entitled "How I Learned French, Spanish, German, and Latin Without Any Effort."

Doris Simmons, Now Mrs. has taken over Dorothy Dix's lovelorn "collum," and, out of her vast experience in such matters, is able to give advice to thousands of desperate and puzzled youths.

Leo Gleason is advertising manager for the Sleep-More Mattress Co., and travels from town to town with Harry Dawson as a sleeping example.

The Misses Susie Hill, Hazel Dorn, and Irene Barchan (the educational triumvirate) are now three zealous pedagogues who rush into the streets and distribute Second Grade Readers to all illiterate-looking people.

B. C. Wall, after writing love letters to the little French girl all these years, went over to France and found out she is a woman of sixty-five summers with a wooden leg and a glass eye.

Cecil Gunn speaks such good German that she is in Frankfort, Germany, translating Hot Dog recipes into English.

Ann Jones and Gilbert Schumacher, modern poets, have written a sensational Epic, part of which we quote:

Two little poets are we
Wee little poets, we two.
Hey diddle diddle,
We're much too little
To be big poets, you see.

Anne Rothrock, Mary Margaret Pritchard and Lila Davidson are full-fledged cow-boys or rather cow-girls. They live in the saddle on an Arizona ranch—carry lassos in their hands, pistols around their waists, and knives in their mouths.

Doris Greiner is so eager to get local color for her Italian novel that she has established a spaghetti shop in Naples.

Francis Clark is now the President of General Motors. It is estimated that he has 5,735 interviews a week, signs 396 checks a day, and presides at 216 board meetings a month.

Mary Emma Blanchard, Sarah Bell, and Ruth Clemmons have reached a speed of 364 miles an hour in their racer at Daytona Beach.

Elizabeth Mobley has realized her greatest ambition to become an actress. She is now starring in that mighty drama "Why men leave home." She's had lots of experience along this line.

Anna Hefferman, the personality kid, has thrown aside her carefree ways and is now president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Recently, she wrote an intoxicating novel called, "Whiskey and Its Curse."

Dorothy Speth and Roesel Stanford have lived up to the expectations of their friends by going to the Lunatic Asylum. Dorothy will be matron and Roesel her assistant. They say that they are sure to be happy in their work as they expect to meet many of their former school mates again.

Elizabeth Ferguson has become famous as a Mack Sennett bathing beauty. She made a great success in "Splash! The Baby Has Fell in the Well."

Llewellyn Morgan has just found out that she is related to the J. P. Morgans of New York, and is heiress to a huge fortune. She has promised to take the Class of '29 on a yacht ride from New York to Florida.

Elizabeth Fant and Birdie Sawilowsky have linked up with the Johnny J. Jones carnival. Elizabeth is known for her artistic interpretation of the "Woozy Wiggle" and Birdie for her interpretation of the "Hula Hula."

Elliott Serotta, always admired for his irreproachable taste in clothes, has opened an exclusive gown shop at the Bon Air Vanderbilt.

Stewart Auerbach is exploring the jungles of Africa. He says he is searching for the missing link in his family tree.

Adrienne Morris is now head of the English Department at J. C. A. Explaining her success, she is quoted as saying, "All that I am and hope to be, I owe to my old English Professor, Mr. Read."

Homer Sharp has become head of the Mathematics Department at a girls' seminary on Long Island. It is said that he certainly knows his figures.

Josephine Maguire is Latin instructor at Paine Institute. The work is very difficult, and she is viewing for the first time the dark side of life.

Catherine Moye and Ruth Howard, on behalf of Astronomy, have written a most enlightening article on "The Uses of Moonlight." The astronomers were very much delighted, as they received many suggestive ideas.

Solomon Tanenbaum, wonderful military leader, has become so interested in the Irish cause that he has departed for Ireland to become head of the War Department.

Lillian Lansdell, famous actress, is being starred by Ziegfeld, in "Mrs. Wiggs in the Cabbage Patch."

Mabel Robinson has just finished her latest painting entitled, "Spring Has Come." It has been bought, sight unseen, by a New York collector, who had so much confidence in Mabel's ability that he paid for the picture before it was begun.

Ruth Knight is now writing serially for the Augusta Herald on "How I Became a Blonde Overnight."

Sincerely,

PAULINE HENDERSON

WALLACE NORTH

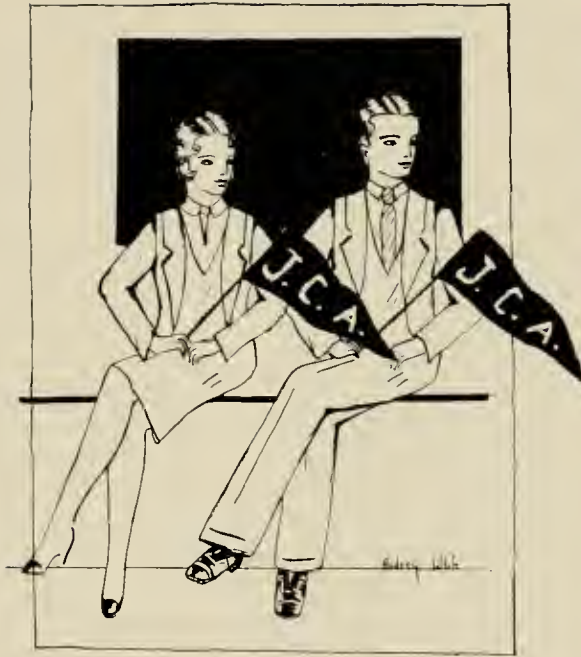

Fantasie

*I'd love to take a sea-breeze
And roll it in a ball,
And hang it on a Christmas tree—
A present for you all.*

*I'd hang it 'mong the tinsel
Where balls of every hue
Weigh down the fragrant pine-boughs—
'T would be my gift to you.*

ANN JONES.

The Sewing Circle

Promptly at four o'clock Monday evening, President Gressette called the meeting to order. Mr. Cordle was fined ten cents for not answering to the roll call.

The first business to come up for discussion was Mr. McLeod's order for a dozen spools of embroidery thread. Mr. Read and Mr. Sherlock also wanted to try for the prize of the best hand-made quilt, so the order was sent off by Prof. Sutton, who is chairman of the needlework committee.

Col. Talley next arose and made a motion that the Circle's Copper-plated Medal for Efficiency be awarded to Dean Skinner, who has just secured his patent for his wonderful invention—a combination lock for false teeth. The motion was seconded by Mr. Ellis and carried by Dr. Butler's exclusive vote.

Due to the students' organizing a Chemistry Club, Mr. Mitchell and Miss Flisch said the Faculty should not be left behind and made a motion that a Checker Club be formed. This was Okayed by President Gressette, but a fuss arose over who was to be President. Both Miss Flisch and Mr. Mitchell wanted to be the Head of the Executive Department. This was finally settled by Miss Boggs, who nominated Mr. Scruggs. Mr. Scruggs was elected president.

A delicious course of prune salad and shredded tripe, with lemon sherbet, was served by Miss Rainsford and Mr. Scott, who jointly share the K. P. honors.

As it was growing late, and Mr. Wells had a "date," the meeting was officially adjourned till next Monday.

Academy of Richmond County

SENIOR

GEORGE WORTH ANDREWS

"Woops" is one of our promising football players and has already shown us his worth on several occasions. "Woops" is a good fellow and always ready to join the fun, especially if there are ladies present.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Company Football, 1, 3; Football Squad, 4.

GEDDINGS GALLMAN ARTHUR

Geddings is a patient, well-liked fellow who studies not too much, but enough to assure him of a seat on the stage in June.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 4.

FRAMPTON MCLEAN ARTHUR

McLean is an earnest worker and is always striving for something higher; this type of person always succeeds; and he surely will. McLean has stuck by us for four years and we certainly hope to see him back in the old building again next year, enrolled in J. C. A.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3, 4.

JOHN BAILIE

We regret that John's picture slipped accidentally into the Senior group, but hope that he will not mind being in such distinguished company.

ARCHIBALD HINTON BAKER

We have heard that Archie wields a wicked golf club. His striking characteristic is his quietness, in spite of which he was won many friends during his stay at the Academy.

Noted: High Honor, 1, 2; Corporal, 2, 3; Philosopherian Literary Society, 3; Four-year course in three years.

ROY HALBERT BARNARD

Our orator has had lots of trouble finding a nice quiet place to practice his speeches. In spite of the fact that he is small, he can make plenty of noise.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3, 4; Philosopherian Literary Society, 3; Alternate Declaimer, 3, 4.

FRANCIS SPEARS BEALL

Francis is very much interested in women, and spends most of his time in company with them. He says that he isn't so crazy about them, but he isn't cruel enough to break any of their hearts; so he goes to see them.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4.

WILLIAM NEWTON BELDING

Bill is a quiet sort of a boy who talks only when it is necessary. He has made a very good record during his stay here; and we hope he continues the good work all through life.

Noted: Corporal, 2, 3; Sergeant, 4.

JAMES CLIFTON BLACK

Clifton may appear to be quiet, but he is certainly not. He has always been loyal to the school, and has upheld its high standards.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; First Sergeant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 3.

JAMES WALKER BLANCHARD

James is the sort of boy you can not help liking, for he has a wonderful personality and is always in a good humor.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 3; Hi-Y, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

WILLIAM EUGENE BLIGHTON, JR.

He has a lot of trouble with the teachers, but he "shoots" them a good "line" and usually gets off the demerits. "Little Blich" is quite witty, and is very popular with his classmates.

Noted: Corporal, 3, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 3, 4.

WESLEY JENKINS BLIGHTON

"Blich" is one of the main supporters of our school dances. He also upholds Richmond's standards on the foot-ball field. "Blich" always has a good word for everybody.

Noted: Entered, 3; Company Football, 3; Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4.

RAINBOW

WELCOME SAXON BOYD

"Shorty" was voted the Best All Round Senior, showing that he excels in whatever he undertakes. He has always enjoyed a flattering popularity, and we know his future success is assured.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Track, 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Honor, 3; Football Squad, 4; Annual Staff, 4; Athletic Representative of Class, 3, 4; Best All Round Senior; Sports Editor.

GUY CAUTHEN

In his years as student in Richmond Academy, Guy Cauthen has made and held many friends. He is most as popular with the Faculty as with his classmates.

FRED ANCIL CIEEKS

Fred is an excellent shot with a rifle, for he holds down a position on our rifle team. He is also a lieutenant in our R. O. T. C. unit, and a model in the class-room as well as on the drill field.

Noted: Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Rifle Team, 4.

CORNELIUS HENRY COHEN

His quietness is characteristic of him and is only a mask which covers the sterling qualities which all who know him recognize.

Noted: Corporal, 2, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4.

RODNEY SNEED COHEN

Always smiling, always cheerful, he is the kind of person who will make his way under any circumstances. May he always have as many and as true friends as he has now.

Noted: Corporal, 4; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Track, 3, 4.

GEORGE HYATT CONKLIN

George has a patented look that would convince any teacher that he knew everything that is to be known. If a knowing air would win, George would always be on top of the pile.

Noted: Chemistry Club, 4.

ELLIOTT OTTO COOPER

Otto is expected to begin turning grey any minute now. He says he has an awful time keeping everybody in the band playing the same piece.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4.

WILLIAM ROGER CRICKENBERGER

"W. R." is our Captain Adjutant, and gives commands to perfection. His politeness and thoughtfulness have always been characteristic of him. We hope that he will join us again next year at J. C. A.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Master Sergeant, 3; Captain Adjutant, 4.

WILLIAM PAXTON CROFT, JR.

Bill has had a hard time this past winter making connections between school and his home across the river. Furey's Ferry was out of commission all during the high water. He is a good-natured boy and is liked by everyone who knows him.

Noted: Entered, 4; Corporal, 4.

GILLETTE BRAINERD CURRIE

"Brainless" is a debater of no mean ability being a member of our debating team. He passes Latin easily; and if he can do this, he must have an easy time with his other studies. So he is not worrying about getting his "dip."

Noted: Honor, 1, 3; Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 4; Debating Team, 3, 4; Declamation, 4; Four-year course in three and one-half years.

SIMON DAVID DAITCH

Simon is a faithful member of the "catch-a-ride" club of Richmond. He has such a cunning wave that he never gets turned down.

Noted: Sergeant, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

MOYE LEO DANIELS

"Cleo" has an extremely hard time controlling the red that is wont to rush to his face when he's around a girl. Although he is a bit bashful around girls, he is anything but sheepish when in the company of boys.

Noted: Company Football, 3.

RALPH HALEY DEAS

Ralph has been a very active member of our class; we don't know what he has been active in. Although he very seldom opens a book, he manages to get by. We wish him the best of luck and hope he gets his "dip."

Noted: Sergeant, 4.

THORNTON DEAS

Thornton excelled in literature and was elected the Literary Editor of the RAINBOW. He has a great deal of originality and is popular among his classmates.

Noted: High Honor, 1; Honor, 2; Sergeant, 3; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Chemistry Club, 4; Literary Editor of RAINBOW, 4.

BOYCE DEWITT

Boyce is a special friend of Mr. Dasher's, having taken a number of courses in how to manufacture furniture. He works hard at English, too.

Noted: Non-drill, 3, 4.

FRANK DUNBAR

"El Fonzo" is a wonderful debater. That is, when there is none of the feminine present. He says that he just must have a good blush when they look at him, and that he can not blush and think at the same time.

Noted: High Honor, 1; Highest Honor, 2; Corporal, 2; Second Lieutenant Battalion Quarter Master, 3; Philosophian Literary Society, 2, 3; President, 3; Reporter for Musketeer, 3; Rifle Team, 3; Valedictorian, 3; Four-year course in three years.

ROBERT EDWARD ELLIOTT

When we think of Ed we usually think of his "paper doll Ford." His smile and "good looks" are equal to all occasions, and we are sure he will meet with success in any line of business.

Noted: Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Secretary and Treasurer of the Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Chemistry Club, 4; Business Manager and Secretary of the Rainbow, 4; Student Council, 2; Secretary of the Student Council, 4.

THOMAS JEFFERSON FENDER

An all-around boy, good on the drill field, good on the track field, and well liked by everyone—that's Tom.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Secretary, 4; Treasurer Class, 3; Track, 3, 4; Military Editor of RAINBOW, 4.

FRANK EUGENE FERRIS

"Ima" says "give me Rice Crispies or give me death." In all seriousness, Frank is very popular with the boys as well as with the girls. His personality should gain for him a high place in life.

Noted: Sergeant, 4; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Vice-President of Senior Class, 4.

BERNARD WILLIAM FRANKLIN

"Tink" is the type of person who is hard to describe, for his good qualities are many. He has made a reputation for himself by his oratorical powers, by high standing in the Military Department, and by his excellent scholastic work.

Noted: Honor, 3; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Winner Levy Medal for Excellency in Drill, 3; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; President, 4; Associate Editor of Musketeer, 3; Assistant Editor-in-Chief of Musketeer, 4; Editor-in-Chief of the RAINBOW, 4; Secretary of Class, 4; A. R. C. Representative in International Oratorical Contest, 3, 4; Company Football, 3; Track Squad, 4; Winner of Tenth Congressional District Contest of the International Oratorical Contest.

JOSEPH PAUL FRANKLIN

Joe received his commission as Captain this year and has proved more than efficient in that capacity. He is well-liked wherever he goes, and we know that his future will be prosperous.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Class Treasurer, 3; Student Council, 4; Baseball Squad, 2; Rifle Team, 4.

JOSEPH HENRY FULGHUM

Joe has carried on the tradition of the Fulghum family at A. R. C. Like the others, he has enjoyed popularity among his classmates. Joe hasn't broadcasted any of his plans for the future, but whatever he does, we know that he will be successful.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Student Council, 3; Hi-Y, 4.

HARDY HILLIARD FULGHUM

Hardy is one of the youngest and finest members of our class. He is always pleasant and smiling, and has made a host of friends. He is sure to be successful in whatever he does.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4.

FRANK PATTON GRACEY, JR.

Frank has become rather famous for his prominence, both in the classroom and on the drill field. He is the smallest, but at the same time, one of the most efficient Captains.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Honor, 3; Philosophian Literary Society, 4; Censor, 4; Four-year course in three years.

ROBERT HENRY GREENE

Robert talks very little, and we think the reason for this is that he is busy thinking about some girl. He acts as if he has not a care in this world. But in spite of the fact that he does not show it, he is very ambitious.

Noted: Entered, 3.

CHRISTOPHER FITZSIMMONS HAMMOND, JR.

Chris seems to like to stand in the corner of Mr. Bryson's study hall. Although Chris lives in Cathwood, you can always find him over here "sheiking"—and does he know how!

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; First Sergeant, 4; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

ELBERT STEPHENS HARTER

Stephens is the nice little fellow with the features of a cherub. When he laughs, you can hardly see his eyes. Have you seen his new Coupe? Maybe in some out of the way place—parked.

Noted: Honor, 2; Corporal, 3; Four-year course in three years.

JOHN BRANDON HAYNIE

Brandon is one of the outstanding boys on the Debating Team. He has won many honors for Richmond in the debates with other schools. He has also been a faithful member of one of our literary societies.

Noted: Philosophian Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Secretary and Treasurer, 3, 4; Vice-President of Society, 4; Debating Team, 4.

CHARLES DOBBS HENDERSON, JR.

C. D. was one of the outstanding football players of the "Golden Horde." He has been one of "Uncle Bill's" standbys, and we don't know how the Commercial Department will get along without him.

Noted: First Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Hi-Y, 3, 4; Student Council, 3; Rifle Team, 4; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 4; Varsity Basket-ball, 1, 2, 3; Varsity Baseball, 1, 2, 3.

THOMAS RUSSELL JONES, JR.

Russell knows exactly how much to study in order to get by, and uses this knowledge to its fullest extent. Russell is a good cartoonist, and amuses himself as well as those who sit near him, with his funny drawings.

Noted: Chemistry Club, 4.

JOSEPH CLARENCE KING

J. C. has worked hard since entering Richmond; and the result of his toils is that he has finished the required work in a half year less than most of us.

Noted: Philosophian Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Corporal, 3; Four-year course in three and one-half years.

JAMES HAMMOND LAKE

"Colonel" Jim comes to us from the thriving suburb of Beech Island. He is very popular, being president of our class, a member, . . etc. Jim is a general favorite wherever he goes.

Noted: Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; President of Class, 2, 3, 4; Euphradian Literary Society, 4, Vice-President, 4; Student Council, 2, 3, 4; Cheer-leader, 4.

RANDOLPH LAMKIN

Randolph is rather quiet; but, "Oh, how he can hunt!" His favorite hunting grounds are the swamps. Randolph is also quite a poet.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; First Sergeant, 4; Company football, 4; Track, 4; Class Poet, 4.

LORICK LAMAR LAYTON

Lamar is a hard-working and conscientious student and a prominent member of one of the literary societies. He is one of Colonel's best cadets.

Noted: Honor, 1; Philosophian, 2, 3, 4; Corporal, 3, 4.

GEORGE COLEMAN LUCK

Coleman has shown us that it is possible to pass all your subjects every term. In other words, he is a bright student. He has made a host of friends during his sojourn here.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; High Honor, 1; Highest Honor, 2; Four-Year Course in Three Years.

GEORGE THOMAS LYNCH

George is a very studious lad, and always takes home excellent reports. George is a Sergeant and enjoys enforcing discipline.

Noted: High Honor, 1, 2, 3; Corporal, 2, 3; Sergeant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 3, 4.

WADE VIDETTO MALLARD

Wade has worked his way through the years with the rest of us, and has been a loyal member of our class. He always has some good news to divert our thought, even during class hours.

Noted: Corporal, 2, 3; Sergeant, 4; Rifle Team, 4; Company Football, 3; Football Squad, 3, 4; Track Squad, 3, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 2; Chemistry Club, 4; Muskeeter Staff, 4.

HARRY BEDFORD MARCUM

Harry is one of those conscientious fellows who always do their work not perfectly maybe—but good enough. We've never seen him when he wasn't smiling.

Noted: Entered, 3; Sergeant, 4; Rifle Team, 4.

WALTER DAVIES MERRY, JR.

Walter is quite a ladies' man and can usually be seen talking to some co-ed. He has a good personality, and finds it easy to make friends and to keep them.

Noted: Sergeant, 3; Euphradian Literary Society, 4; Secretary and Treasurer, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

HAROLD WILLIAM MONTGOMERY

Harold and his bicycle! Have you ever noticed how these fellows who pedal their bicycles, like those who paddle their own canoes, get somewhere and accomplish something? He has been a true and loyal member of our class.

Noted: Entered, 3; Corporal, 4.

CECIL ROBERT MORRIS

Cecil never talks very much, but when words flow from his mouth they are well worth listening to. He is going after his diploma in a determined manner, and we hope he gets it.

Noted: Corporal, 4.

CLARENCE MECASLIN MULLINS

Clarence is very slow in motion and in speech—but he can "put out" if called upon to do so. He seems to get a great deal of pleasure out of annoying the officers on the drill field.

Noted: Corporal, 4.

EDGAR OWENS MCKINNEY

Ed is a "long, tall drink of water" who means well, you know. Really, he's a very nice fellow. Occasionally he studies—"Just enough to get him by."

Noted: Corporal, 4.

GEORGE CHARLES NICHOLSON

George showed up for football this year and did very well. He is forever disturbing the peace in class; but, despite this, George will reach the top of the ladder and receive his "dip" in June.

Noted: Corporal, 1, 2, 4; Football Squad, 3, 4; Company Football, 3; Company Basket-ball, 1; Philosophian Literary Society, 2; Track Squad, 3, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

JOHN UHL NIXON

"Nick" has always been very active in all forms of school activities. He is a faithful member of the Hi-Y, and is on the rifle team—besides going out for football and track. We hope that he will be as good a sport all through life.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; Football Squad, 3, 4; Baseball Squad, 3; Hi-Y, 4; Treasurer of Class, 4; Track Team, 3, 4.

BENJAMIN NEELY PLUMB

Neely is the saxophonist of the class. He plays in several of the city orchestras; and we think him one of the best players in the South. Neely, though, does not neglect his lessons for music, for we usually find his name on the Senior Privilege List.

Noted: High Honor, 3; Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4.

LOUIS FREDERICK POWELL

We don't see how the commercial department and "Uncle Bill" are going to get along without Louis. He is good on the tennis court, as well as on the drill field where he has risen to the rank of captain.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; Captain, 4; Assistant in commercial department, 4.

HENRY ELIAS PRICE

Henry certainly does believe in hiding behind that smile of his. Everyone likes Henry, including the co-eds; for he's a regular good fellow. Never does he fail to contribute his part in the classroom or elsewhere.

Sergeant, 2; Second Lieutenant, 3; Philosophian Literary Society, 3; Chemistry Club, 3; Honor, 1, 2; Four-year Course in Three Years.

RALPH LINWOOD RAINWATER

Linwood is the kind of fellow that the Faculty admires, because he never gives them any trouble. He handles his own business and is therefore liked by all. Linwood is going in for track in a determined manner this year, and we all wish him luck—meaning his "dip" as well as a good track record.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Honor, 1; Philosophian Literary Society, 3, 4; Debating Team, 4.

EDWARD HULL RHODES, JR.

Ed has been endowed with good looks and the ability to dance well. These, with his other good qualities, have caused him to enjoy popularity everywhere.

Noted: First Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4; Rifle Team, 4.

JOSEPH FRANK ROGERS

Joe is a slow, easy-going boy who seldom says anything except when called upon. He is a gentleman in every way, and is well-liked by his classmates. Joe, we hope you make a success in anything you undertake.

Noted: Corporal, 2, 3; Sergeant, 4.

WILLIAM BOYKIN SANFORD

If you see someone prancing up and down at a football game you will know that that is Bill. He is one of our best Lieutenants and a "peach" of a boy. Bill is very conscientious about anything he undertakes, and will therefore be a huge success in life.

Noted: Second Lieutenant, 4; Football Squad, 3, 4; Baseball, 3.

LEOPOLD ALAN SCHNEIDER

At times Leopold is very talkative—always at the wrong time. He doesn't burn any midnight oil over his books, but he studies enough to pass easily.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 1, 4; Four-year course in three and one-half years.

JOHN FRYER SEWELL

John is so small—only weighs about two hundred and seventy pounds, and is about six feet two inches tall. Like most all fat people, he is big-hearted and good-natured.

Noted: Entered, 3; High Honor, 3.

JOHN EARL SHOEMAKER

Jack is one of our best scholars, for he has made an honor each year and has finished a year ahead of time. He has many other good qualities besides his wonderful brain, and is well liked.

Noted: Highest Honor, 1; High Honor, 2; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Philosophian Literary Society, 3; Chemistry Club, 4; Four-year course in three years.

SAMUEL SILVER

Sam is quiet, but that doesn't prevent his voicing his opinion when occasion demands it. He has been a very valuable member of our class.

Noted: Sergeant, 3.

LUTHER HANKINSON SOUTHAL

Luther is an easy going boy and is well-liked by everyone. He is the boy that never gives up the ship and is sure to make a success in life.

THOMAS HOLDEN STAFFORD, JR.

"Tom Carr," or "Bim," or whatever you want to call him, walks around the school with a nonchalant air—but we hear that he is entirely different when he has a golf stick in his hand. We have also noticed that his Ford is partial to the female sex.

Noted: Annual Staff, 4.

CHARLES CONRAD STELLING

Conrad was on the football squad this past year and did fine. If he goes to Junior College we are sure he will make his letter, that is, if he goes out. Conrad has made a noble record during his sojourn here, and we wish him luck.

Noted: Company Football, 3; Football Squad, 4.

HUBERT MAX STEINEK

He is one of the few who say little but accomplish much. Hubert has made an enviable record, and we hope that he will continue as a student in Junior College.

Noted: Honor, 2, 3; Corporal, 3.

DAVENPORT STEWARD

Although very little, "Davvy" has a big mouth—in class, talking continuously. We hear that he is quite an author, and we know that if he continues in this line of work he will make a success.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; Musketeer Staff, 4; Master Sergeant, 4; Philosophian Literary Society, 3.

JOSEPH BURTON VERDERY

Joe is quite a noisy boy, but despite this he has made the best of his stay here. Joe has very fine qualities, and also has the ability to make friends easily.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3, 4; Rifle Team, 4.

JOHN BENNETT WALTERS

When you hear someone say "I lik-----es that," you know its Bennett expressing his appreciation of some co-ed of the college. Bennett's sense of humor on more than one occasion changed a dull, dry period into an interesting one.

Noted: Entered, 4; Sergeant, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Chemistry Club, 4.

HARRY LEONARD WALTERS

One never sees Harry without a grin on his face. He is always in a good humor and usually has something funny to say. Harry is very popular with both sexes—Especially the opposite one.

Noted: Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3, 4.

JACK EDWOOD WEBB

Jack is famous for his English notes. He goes so deep into details that he never gets out again and ends up by saying "the period closes with the ringing of the bell." Jack is a good boy and we wish him lots of luck.

Noted: Honor, 1; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 4.

HERBERT ALPHONSO WILLIAMS, JR.

Herbert came to us last year with a determination, very rare in the Academy, to make the most of his opportunities; for he made five A's for two consecutive months this year—a very noteworthy accomplishment in itself. He is also a good sprinter and a good Lieutenant.

Noted: Entered, 3; Corporal, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Hi-Y, 4.

CLYDE ARCHIE WOOTTON

Clyde has recently taken up aviation, and would rather be up in the air than on the ground. It is predicted that he will soon become a skilled pilot. We wish him lots of luck in his chosen profession.

Noted: Corporal, 2; First Sergeant, 3; First Lieutenant, 4.

VERNON ROSBOROUGH WREN

Vernon seems to have an easy time with all his studies, so there is no doubt about his getting his diploma. Whatever college or business firm gets him will have a very capable person. We are sure he will be a success.

Noted: Honor, 1; Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4.

IRVIN ABELOFF

Irvin is a new addition to our class, but a very valuable one, popular not only with us but with the co-eds. He has personality plus, which will carry him a long way towards success.

JACK HARRY LEVY

Jack is quite considerate of the women. He often gives them a treat with his presence. He's even wearing some girl's ring. Jack is working hard for his diploma, and is sure to get it.

Noted: Entered, 2; Corporal, 2; Sergeant, 3; Non-drill, 4; Company Football, 2; Chemistry Club, 4; Honor.

CHARLES FUNK

Everyone knows Funk's "Yes Sir, Mr. Hardy." Although he does have a little trouble in class rooms, he will surely graduate. Funk is quite a football player—so they say.

Noted: Chemistry Club, 4; Four-year course in three years.

ROBERT JACKSON KIGHT

Robert is slated to enter the world of business, having groomed himself in the principles of commerce, with the assistance of Mr. Kennedy. The best of luck to you, Robert.

Noted: Corporal, 3; Sergeant, 4.

FREDERICK WILLIAM THEILING, JR.

For the past two years he has been manager of the Track Team. Mr. Cordle will find it pretty hard getting along without him. Theiling is going after his "dip" in a determined way, and we wish him all the luck in the world.

Noted: Sergeant, 3; Second Lieutenant, 4; Track Manager, 3; Company Football, 3; Rifle Team, 4.

History of the Class of 1929

Slam! went the front door. Crash! the strap of books fell in the corner of the lounge, and the muttered exclamation of young Alvin heralded his return from school.

"My," he exclaimed, "Professor Leroy gave me ten demerits to-day for running down the hall, and,"

"Stop!" I halted him with a gesture—"Professor Leroy is a fine fellow even if he is a little peculiar. Why I remember when the class of '29 entered the A. R. C. way back in 1925—gee whiz, it seems like an old drama to me now. Here's the way it was:"

"The class of '29, disguised as Freshmen, entered upon the scene on a fair September day. Valiantly we struggled with stern studies, strict teachers, irksome probations, and other enemies of frightful mien. The deadly Dragon, Examinations, was twice confronted, with his allies, Dread, Toil, and Despair. But through all this the little Freshmen struggled, and by and by we crowned ourselves with the laurels of Sophomorehood."

ACT 2

"The masks of Wordly Wisdom and Knowledge now disguised the valiant class of '29. Others foes were met and overcome. Gradually we began to take our places in school activities, including the R. O. T. C. unit that was organized that year. Gradually the days wore on, and our Sophomore year drew to a close amid new triumphs."

ACT 3

"Removal of the masks of Sophomorehood revealed the marks of sober responsibility and wise experience. This year the "time system" was rejected and a "demerit system" was established, which every boy gave a hand of applause. Our class did their part in the movement to beautify the campus and this movement was a great success. The year ended in a mad race, participated in by all the class to get enough credit to be rated as Seniors, the following September."

ACT 4

"Our Senior year was begun by the checking up of our three years' preceding records, to see if we were worthy of being rated as candidates for graduation. This year we were forced to take examinations, which in the first three years of our sojourn could have been exempted. As our fourth year drew to a close, the outstanding event was the class-day held in the school auditorium, to which the student body and our sister-seniors of Tubman were invited. The act closes with the noble spectacle of Graduation, the climax and culmination of the play. The coveted diploma, award of courage and of valiant determination, is bestowed upon the distinguished class of '29."

HERBERT WILLIAMS

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1929

We, the Senior Class of The Academy of Richmond County, realizing that we have absorbed all the knowledge that is to be gained in one life time, and feeling that we have extracted all the pleasure that living can possibly afford, do intend to commit suicide, and do hereby assign, designate, and appoint this our last will and testament. We do hereby appoint Scarface Al Capone and Col. Dick Chambers as executors of this document, subject to the following provisions and exceptions.

Article 1. We do hereby leave to the present Junior Class all the broken-down desks and our love for drill.

Article 2. To our beloved Math teacher, Tony Markert, we leave one rubber desk top, that he need not bruise his knuckles in calling the co-eds to order.

Article 3. To our Campus Beautifier, Mr. E. W. Hardy, we leave one seed catalogue, and one orator to take the place of "Fog-Horn Franklin."

Article 4. To Miss Rainsford, our librarian, we leave one "Ssh-sh-ss-sh-sss" machine to quiet the babbling freshmen.

Article 5. To "Uncle Bill" Kennedy we leave one Hawkshaw outfit to enable him better to pursue his detective work.

Article 6. To Sergeant Leipold we leave one decent score made by the Rifle Team.

Article 7. To that Crown Prince of English, Charlie Mitchell, we leave one volume on how to perfect that "Harvard" accent.

Article 8. To George Milton Scott, we heartily bequeath one case of Borden's Baby Milk to put in his thermos bottle, with the hope that it will soften his attitude toward over-talkative seniors.

Article 9. To Mr. O. W. Chandler we leave an Eveready Flashlight service on dark nights when the last trolley has left Beech Island.

Article 10. To Mrs. Eubanks, we leave one O. K.'d excuse, signed by the entire student body.

Article 11. To the Faculty as a whole, we leave one gross of dusty erasers.

Article 12. To Joe Armstrong, we leave one Ku Klux Klan robe, and rights to break up any dance in town.

Article 13. To the student passing the following examination, we leave one life-time scholarship to the University of Milledgeville.

1. Where is Mr. Wells going tonight?
2. When will Coach Gressette's foot-ball team die of old age?
3. Did Mr. Hardy ever get the sand out of his shoes?
4. When will "Shorty" Boyd and Jack Jackson make their dancing debut?
5. What does Mr. Scott keep in his coat pockets?
6. Where did Mr. McLeod get his last bowl of soup?
7. What made Dr. Butler's arm so strong?
8. Why does Mr. Bryson teach Barn Yard Philosophy instead of Economics?
9. Who stole the demerit box down at the old school?
10. Does Mr. Simpson believe in luck?
11. What brought Mr. Smith back from Cuba?

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seal this date, April 1,
In the year of our Lord 1929.

Signed The Senior Class,

BY JOE FRANKLIN.

The Prophecy of the Class of 1929

When asked to write the prophecy of the graduating class of the Academy of Richmond County, I consented, but later found out that I was not capable of doing it satisfactorily, so I decided to take the job to Madam Laura, the palmist. And, when I came back the next day, she handed me this:

In looking forward through space I stopped in the year of 1955 and observed the following:

Worth Andrews is now coaching slow-motion centers at Notre Dame.

Bernard Armstrong will take charge of the Nox Theatre, which is located in the city of Wrens, Ga.

Halbert Barnard and James Blanchard, we understand, are selling the Saturday Evening Post in Sparta, Kansas.

Francis Beall is a prominent lawyer in Philadelphia.

Clifton Black is a member of the famous Black's Minstrels, which have the record of having shown in every city in the country.

Wesley Blitchington we find has married, has twelve children, and is a farmer in South Carolina.

"Shorty" Boyd is now head of the crochet department of the Bethlehem Steel Works.

Henry Cohen is running a cat-gut factory in Hamburg.

Roger Crickengerger is now a corporal of the U. S. Army, although he still thinks he's nature's gift to the army.

Brainard Currie is the president of the Princeton Law School.

Simon Daitch, Charles Funk, and Leopold Schneider are makers of the much-talked about Weareasy Clothes.

Moye Daniels is known as Millie Long in J. J. J.'s carnival.

Ralph and Thornton Deas are the reigning "sheiks" in the play "Broadway Nights."

Buck Douglas, alias 'Kayo Slupe" alias "Knife Regan" has disappeared into the underworld of Chicago.

Frank Dunbar, Robert French, Herbert Longeway, Lamar Layton, Herbert Williams and John Shoemaker are active workers of the club to pave Heard Avenue.

Tom Stafford is now a professor at the Tulesa Colored Institution, and has a good chance to be elected president at a later date.

Conrad Stelling, we found on the streets of New Orleans selling cry-baby balloons to childless couples.

Davenport Steward is now selling the Non-Rip silk hosiery in Atlanta.

William Theiling and Joe Verdery are owners of the Hava-Some-Pickle Manufacturing Company.

Harry Walters is the owner of the famous "Tight Like That" Night Club, which is located in Tampa, Florida.

Jack Webb is the world's heavy weight boxing champion, and has signed a contract with the Paramount Moving Picture Corporation.

Clyde Wooten is the inventor of the Take-a-leap parachute; it is made for adventurous school-girls.

Ed Elliott is a famous heel-and-toe specialist at the Cinderella Hospital.

Tom Fender, the noted safe expert, is now spending a few years abroad in Scotland Yard.

Frank Ferris is the manufacturer of the Ima acid, which is used in all High Schools and colleges, and is also the inventor of the famous oof-oof.

Bernard Franklin, the owner of the Blow-Loud Foghorn Company, we find, also teaches his employees Business Law.

Joe Franklin is an assistant in a big dancing school located just outside of Augusta.

Hardy Fulghum is the new editor-in-Chief of Captain Billy's Whiz Bang and seems to like the work.

Chris Hammond now spends his time making that good old Limburger Cheese.

C. D. Henderson has been appointed our good-will ambassador to Africa.

Brandon Haynie is a struggling osteopath in New Jersey.

Frank Hulse has been employed by the Travel-Air Airplane Corporation to teach "Safety First" to ground aviators.

Russell Jones, the noted sculptor, is now busy at work on his masterpiece, "The Broad-Minded Girl."

Jim Lake is the parson of the Spring Field Tabernacle in Beech Island, S. C.

Randolph Lampkin is spending the last few years of his life writing poetry in Sing Sing.

Coleman Luck is now selling collapsible bath tubs to tourists in the Sahara Desert.

George Lynch has been employed as head of the suit department in Armstrong's Ready-to-wear Clothing Store.

Harry Marcum is in the U. S. Navy. He will publish a book soon on, "Experiences Abroad."

Walter Merry was last heard of in the woods of the Municipal Golf Course.

Geddings Arthur is the doctor who started the saying, "A pie a day keeps the doctor away," while McLean Arthur, his brother, is the proprietor of a prosperous bakery.

Lamar Woodward and John Sewell are deep-sea divers at Lake Almond, near Augusta.

Jack Nixon, well known track coach at Harvard, is introducing a new sprint, which he calls leap-in-bound style.

Neely Plumb is famous as the inventor of the noiseless saxophone.

Louis Powell has just been employed by the city council of Augusta as their aerial traffic cop. His tower is located just above Daniel Field.

Henry Price is now employed as Chauffeur for Prof. H. O. Read, who is Head of the English Department at Harvard.

Ed Rhodes will arrive in Thomson, Georgia, June 11, 1955, to demonstrate his transferable wheat crop, which he grows in his car.

Edgar McKinney was recently appointed Assistant Professor of Barnyard Philosophy at Clemson College.

Linwood Rainwater is now in South America looking for the long-lost Fountain of Youth.

The Parting

*Now time has brought the parting day,
And we must say our last farewell;
Beneath the star that lights our way
O, in our hearts forever dwell!*

*And as we go a-down life's way
And take the things from hands of Fate,
By troubled hearts we're led to pray
For bygone days within thy gate.*

*Before the closing of Life's door
Perhaps we'll come in age and pain
To live once more the old days o'er
As happy, carefree boys again!*

The Library

On entering the library, one first notices that it has an atmosphere entirely different from that of any other part of the building. For one thing, it is quieter. This is due to the rubber composition that is on the floor and to Miss Rainsford's insistence on lowered voices. The whole room is very cheerful—there are rows and rows of bright-colored books, yellow shades that let the sunshine through, and big, green ferns and flower boxes with Begonia and Wandering Jew in them. Miss Rainsford's desk is of polished oak, as are all the tables and chairs in the room. On the desk are bright flowers, and near it, on top of the card index stand, is a shiny, blue-pottery vase. Hanging at the southern end of the cream-colored walls is a red, white, and blue Georgia Flag. There are two bulletin boards: one has a reproduction of Franz Hals' "The Merry Company" and Roger van der Wegden's "Annunciation" tacked on it; and the other holds History and Zoology outside reading assignments. The northern end is divided by a cross-section of low shelves, on top of which are a silver basket-ball, two silver cups, and a silver football player in costume mounted on a football. All but one of these trophies rest on ebony stands. Of the books which line the walls, perhaps the most striking to the eye are the Furness Variorum Edition of Shakespeare, which are burnt-orange in color, and the Colonial Records of Georgia, which are purple. A new Seth Thomas clock ticks over the desk, and busts of Napoleon and Washington look down on the heads of study-absorbed boys and girls. The library is a quiet, colorful room.

From Classroom to Classroom

"Buz-buz-buz-z-z" goes the bell. This is the first one. Murmuring and occasional chattering come from the classrooms, in which lesson-assignments are hastily being made. There is a minute of suspense—listening to the assignment and waiting for the bell—then, with another raucous "buz-z-z," the office clock assures us that it is still on the job. Doors open with a jerk—the mad rush to the next class begins—confusion follows. "Shorty" has dropped his five-year-old French book, somebody has stepped on "Evolution's" toe, and Mary has fallen flat on the floor in her effort to catch up with her "Weakness." "Bam!" "Click!" "Where wuz I?" "One side, Freshman!" all indicate that lockers are the center of attraction. "Did you put the thing to Mr. . . . ?" a student is questioned as he is half through the combination of his lock. Groups of boys and girls, the latter especially, bunch near the classroom doors to be ready to rush in when the bell rings again. Those of us who have to pass Miss Flisch's door have an embarrassed feeling that the "Sh-sh" machine donated to her by the Class of '28 is about to start. We hurry by. The last bell rings, and only a few stray sheep (lost freshmen and "dumb" seniors) loiter about the hall. In a few moments, everyone is perched for his usual nap, waiting for more good news: "Buz-buz-buz-z-z."

The Sophs had been trying in vain to pull some joke on a poor green Freshman who seemed a little too witty to suit them. Finally, one smart Soph walked up to the Freshman, and with an air of superiority said:

"Well, Freshie, the devil's dead!"

The Freshman said nothing, but reached in his pocket, pulled out a rusty nickel and gave it to the Soph.

"What's THIS FOR-" asked the puzzled Soph.

"My mother always taught me to divide with the orphans," answered the Freshman.

MILITARY

COLONEL A. G. GOODWYN

As it becomes my happy privilege to express to you my appreciation of the way the corps as a whole has acquitted itself and to felicitate you upon your individual and collective achievement as a military body, I would remind you that the biggest word in the lexicon of the soldier is DUTY. It is my earnest hope that you have so consecrated yourselves to this principle that its meaning will transfuse every obligation and relationship of life. That you may make and fill worthily your place in the world is the sincere wish of

Why Military Training?

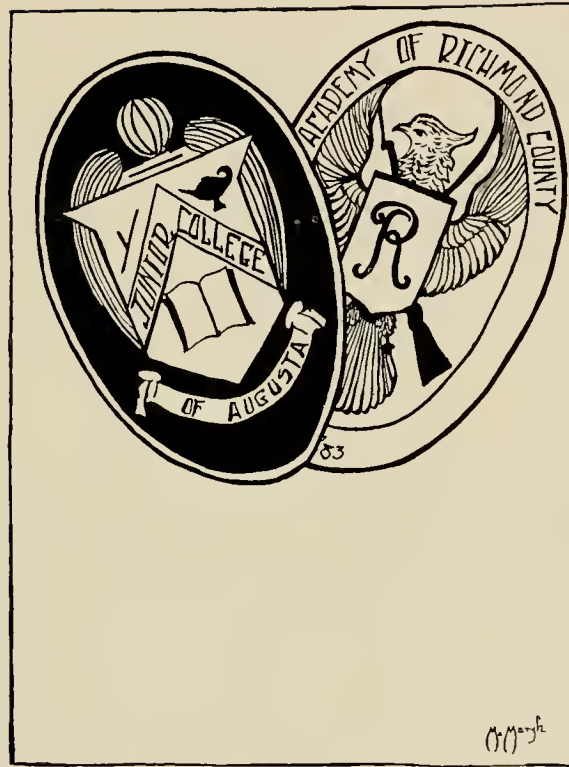

EAD indeed must be the soul of any American citizen not stirred to its depth with pride and patriotism as he listened in on the inaugural ceremonies on March 4th, in Washington. Ambassadors from every nation of the world, except Russia, heard the Senators, the Vice-President and the President swear to uphold and protect the Constitution of this, the greatest Nation of the world. They heard the President speak of our unprecedented prosperity, of our wealth of resources, of our happy and comfortable homes. He said that no other nation is more worthy of the respect of other nations and that we have reached a higher degree of security than ever existed before in the history of the world.

It is true that we have no thought of imperialism, we want no more territory, and we would advance the reign of peace throughout the world. But, can we convince the world that this is true? We can not read the minds of the representatives of all the nations, but, from their periodicals we can form some conception of what they think of us. The Germans regard our country as the home of an imperialism of dollars. France speaks of our economical imperialism and calls our Navy-building program sheer madness. Italy looks upon us as swaggering and inconsistent. Spain calls the Monroe Doctrine a charter of imperialism over the whole continent. Great Britain, America's principal competitor in the trade and financing of the world, is organizing her industries to be better able to cope with our mass production and she is making unpleasant remarks about us because of our navy program. The Reds in Russia are trying to force the United States to recognize Soviet Russia. The program of the Russian Communist is the program of the American Socialist, both making use of every possible argument to reduce the military strength of America. This is boasted of in their periodicals, which constantly preach revolution. This is not Russian, it is international, and their propaganda is aimed at every civilized country in the world.

One of the national characteristics of the American people is optimism; it has helped in the development of the country; at the same time, it has cost tremendous loss of life and money. History is a continuous record of clashes between nations competing for world trade. Nation after Nation has risen to commercial supremacy to fall when unable to defend that supremacy. The United States has reached the apex of that supremacy. Are we able to defend it? And, greatly more important, are we able to defend the ideals for which the founders of America stood? Let us see. In proportion to the population, the army of Russia is two and one-third times as large as ours; the army of Great Britain is two and three-fourths times the size of ours; the army of Japan is almost eleven times the size of ours; the army of Italy is twenty-seven times the size of ours; and the army of France is thirty-seven times the size of ours. If our entire Regular Army and the entire National Guard were mobilized today, they would not be able to form a battle front of over 135 miles and there would be no reserves for replacement.

There are many crises of world scope waiting solution. Europe has 1,000,000 more armed men than at the beginning of the World War. Mr. Coolidge said, "Armies and Navies are as necessary as police and criminal courts and bolts and bars are necessary: they are adjuncts of peace. We want no more competitive armament, we want no more war, but, we want no weakness that invites imposition." Not until greed, selfishness, envy, jealousy, competition in trade, and imperialism disappear from the earth will men beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks, nor will nation cease to war against nation." Knowing these things, let us continue to train our young men in schools and in training camps, for, respect for our ability in defense will become a potent agent for peace. "When a strong man keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace." Our goods are our ideals, namely, faith in the guidance of God, high moral standards, liberty, equality of opportunity, self-government by the people, the sanctity of the home, freedom of speech and of religion, and, patriotism dedicated to service of country in peace and war. Let us be prepared to defend them.

Football Season

As you read these few words recording the 1928 season of "The Wonder Team" of A.R.C.-J.C.A., may you know that the production of this team did not come as just an accident but as a result of hard work and determination on the part of the team, the "stickability" of the scrubs, the brains and wonderful coaching ability of our coaches, Gressette and Sherlock, and last but by far not least the spirit of "Ole Richmond" demonstrated by the students at all the games.

Early in September the first call to arms was heard and answered promptly by "Musketeers" ready and willing. There were only nine letter men back, namely, Baird, Bolden, Griffin, Watkins, Bruce, Lucky, Weathersbee, Duvall and Sneider, but by September 27 the "Musketeers" had completed the sharpening of their swords, and were in perfect condition both mentally and physically to meet any man's eleven, as was shown by the way Richmond "tended to business" and beat Charleston Hi 25 to 0.

The following week after touching up on some of the weak points showed up by the Charleston game, "The Team" completely outclassed the Sumter Hi team, the score being 45 to 7.

After the victory of last week the team and school as a whole were in height of good spirits and felt that nothing short of a miracle could stop "our team," but we knew we had no set-up in the coming game with Gordon on October 13. This game as is always expected was a good one; it wasn't a walk-away, but Richmond was just too good for her opponents and won by the score of 27 to 0.

Practice up to this time had been light compared to what the squad met in preparation for what was supposed to be our hardest game of the season with G. M. C. The news was scattered about that G. M. C. was going to "tend to business and to Richmond;" well they "tended to business," but not in quite as finished a style as Richmond, and the Purple and Gold were again victors by the score of 19 to 0.

This game was featured by real team-play of both teams and the individual play of Golden, when he ran 66 yards from the kick off. Frank Oliver caught a perfect pass and ran for a touchdown, and Broadus Weathersbee, a Richmond player, caught the ball on the kick-off and ran 75 yards for a touchdown.

On October 27, those "Scrapping Irishmen" from Savannah journeyed to Augusta and as usual the Benedictine team scrapped, but they were just out-classed and another victory was added to the Musketeers' collection by the score of 33 to 0.

Now came the real week, the one which a lot of the older players were looking forward to. For the purpose of "sweet revenge," we were to play "Carlisle," see? and the whole team was looking forward to the trip to Orangeburg, then to Atlanta, to play G. M. A. and (glory be!) three days absence from school.

Well, the boys got their revenge and the team got a wonderful trip. It seemed that "the team" was just on its toes and they certainly lived up to the name they had received a short while before, "The Golden Horde," by licking Carlisle in a one-sided game 42 to 7, and then turning right around and beating G. M. A. the following Saturday 40 to 0.

The next week Atlanta had another try at defeating Richmond in the form of Boys' Hi, but their hopes were doomed to disappointment and in one of the best games of the year Richmond won by the score of 19 to 0.

That old idea of the breaks of the game again proved itself true in the annual battle with the Savannah (Hoy) School, in Savannah on November 17. This game was a tough one and well played by both teams, but anyway it was a great game and some real football ability was exhibited, but it is still the secret opinion of the author of this article that Richmond had the best team, although Savannah had a stomp-down good one and the score was 0 to 0.

After the Savannah game, the battle-worthy warriors of Richmond had a week of light practice and no game, then started the "grilling" and touching up of the fine points in a wonderful football machine in preparedness; for the South's best two prep school teams were to meet in the form of Richmond and Tech Hi. This was rated by several persons who know, to have been one of the best prep school games ever played in the South, but again Richmond came off with the honors and won the score of 12 to 6. The high lights of this game were Bolden's runs and his passes, Watkins's return of a punt for 32 yards and the whole play of the team as a unit. For Tech Hi, Mott was the star, scoring the touch-down with a 60-yard run in the fourth quarter.

This year's team, which was truly a "Wonder Team," was not due to the play of any one individual, but to the fight and spirit of the whole team; we know that the "29" team will be equally as great. There will be names that have become very prominent in the athletic annals of Richmond, whose names will not appear in the lineups of next year: Dutch Lucky, Tom Bruce, Alvin Baird, Broadus Weathersbee, Eni Griffin, Buck Watkins and Parks Hendee.

THE END.

BASKET-BALL

Basket-Ball Season 1929

COACH GRESSETTE

The basket-ball team of this year, 1929, due to many handicaps, such as the loss of several stars, and the opening of school two weeks or more late, thus not allowing the coach time to produce new and proper men to fill the shoes of last year's losses, was not fully up to standard. Another outstanding reason for the off season was the fact that for the lack of time, as stated above, it was not possible to produce the proper team work in the team before the season was in full swing, and it takes a machine that has teamwork as its chief quality to put out a real basket-ball team. But with all of this we count this season as one of Richmond's many successes, because the boys worked hard every evening and won four and lost 8 out of 12 games.

Coach wishes to announce that next years' practice will begin immediately following football season and Richmond hopes to have a good team next year.

But just remember to please be lenient in your criticism of the team of 1929 and accept the "alibi" offered, and remember that, winning or losing, it was Richmond's team, it was the team.

Track Season of 1928

As the result of hard work and determination on the part of all boys and the coach, the team of 1928 was very successful. All boys played their part in building a strong team and in upholding the high standards of Richmond, and this successful season will be remembered in the future years.

Baseball Season of 1928

Due to the fact that the RAINBOW of 1928 was sent to the printer before baseball season was completed, it was impossible to put in the pictures of the players and a review of the season. Due to the hard work, good spirit, and great success of the team of 1928 season, they are due some recognition.

The Annual Staff of 1929 dedicates this page as a token of appreciation by the school as a whole for the hard work of the boys and coaches of 1928 season.

C. H. MITCHELL, Faculty Advisor

After the local tournament, in which Bell, Ridgway, Griffin, Sheridan, and Hendee proved winners in the five brackets played, the team took on some outsiders with the following results:

April 28th—University School of Atlanta,	1;	A. R. C.,	8
May 12th—Waynesboro High School,	0;	A. R. C.,	8
May 5th—Savannah High School,	3;	A. R. C.,	6
May 26th—Savannah High School,	7;	A. R. C.,	2

Three out of the four meets went the right way. Bell and Ridgway were chief point-getters, but Griffin and Sheridan, as No. 1 doubles team and Nos. 1 and 2 in singles, faced stiffer opposition. It was a well-balanced team. All meets were played at home with the exception of the first with Savannah.

This year's prospects are good, as we have three veterans with us in Griffin, Bell, and Hendee, and there is plenty of good material for recruits. Meets are proposed with Boys' High of Atlanta, the snappy Waynesboro team, and the ancient foe, Savannah.

A negro woman was in an automobile accident. After she regained consciousness, the doctor sought to cheer her by remarking:

"You will undoubtedly be able to obtain a considerable amount of damages."

"Damages?" asked Aunt Sarah. "What does Ah want wit damages?" Ah got nuf damage now. What Ah wants is repairs."
